Context

SES is the world's leader in global satellite communications providing first-class, worldwide broadcast and data communications.

This is an exciting opportunity to become part of the Tax Management team in a fast-paced, growing organization in a dynamic industry. Based in Betzdorf (Luxembourg), you will assist the Transfer Pricing team in a variety of international projects.

Transfer pricing refers to the establishment of arm's length prices within a multinational group for different types of transactions (transfer of tangible and intangible assets, provision of services, intra-group financing, etc.). The main functions of the Transfer Pricing team are to ensure that the prices in the intercompany transactions meet the arm's length standard, intercompany agreements are complete, and the company complies with any transfer pricing documentation requirements imposed by national or international tax authorities.

Responsibilities

- Assist in the update of the "Transfer Pricing Master File";
- Assist in the creation of functional analysis documents and participation in functional analysis interviews;
- Perform economic analyses including benchmarking studies and valuations;
- Preparation of presentations for various external and internal stakeholders;
- Support the Transfer Pricing and Corporate Tax teams with any other projects on an ad-hoc basis.

Experience / Qualifications

- Current university student preparing a Degree in Finance, Business or Accounting;
- Strong English business writing skills;
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills;

- Computer literacy including PowerPoint and Excel experience;
- Ability to work as part of a team;
- Fluency in English. Good proficiency in French is desirable;
- EU-nationality/Valid work permit for Luxembourg.

Our Offer

An interesting and challenging experience within a worldwide leading company in an international team. The internship is remunerated. SES provides excellent sport facilities and a canteen on site.

6-months internship, starting in August 2016.

SES is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer.
